Veterans' Reunion.

Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 23.—The sixth annual reunion of Crocker's celebrated Iowa brigade, opened here to-day. The attendance of veterans is larger than any previous year and many affecting greetings have been exchanged by members of the brigade who have not met each other before since the war. Crocker's brigade was organized April 27, 1862, on the fortieth anniversary of the birth of General Grant, and it served continuously until the close of the war—an unbroken organization. This was the former home of Leon Crocker and in the matter of decorations and the providing of an elaborate program of entertainment, the citizens have taken special pains to make the occasion one of great interest and pleasure. The memorial address will be delivered this afternoon by Maj. H. C. M. Arthur of the Fifteenth Iowa Infantry Veterans.

Anniversary of a Poet.

New York, Sept. 24.—The Spanish Atlantic line of steamers, running between Cadiz and Vera Cruz, will not proceed to Mexico. Merchants throughout the country will make up the subsidy which the government for many paid the line. President Diaz does not renew it as the line is very popular here. All steamers from the United States and Europe touching at Vera Cruz will henceforth touch at Tampa. German merchants here are strongly opposing reciprocity between Mexico and the United States. It is rumored that the minister of the interior, Gomez Rubio, father-in-law of President Diaz, will soon resign and accept a foreign mission. He feared the recent heavy rains have endangered sugar, coffee, and cotton crops in the southern states.

A Strange Case at Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., September 24.—Mary Stuckenberg, wife of a laborer here, is believed to be what is known to the Catholic church as a stigmatist. She has sores during which appear upon her hands and feet and forehead marks like those where the Savior was pierced by the nails and thorns of the crucifixion. These wounds bleed slowly and resemble similar marks upon others of whom records have been kept by Catholics, particularly those of Louise Mary Latane. A careful examination of the case will be made by the priests.

Gathering of Methodists.

Waukesha, Wis., Sept. 23.—The annual conference of the Methodist church for the Wisconsin district opened here to-day. Its deliberations are presented over by Bishop John H. Vincent, of Buffalo, who has been especially assigned for the purpose. His selection gives great satisfaction, and for the first time in many years the gathering will be harmonious and peaceful. Bishop Newman, who has been a thorn in the flesh of Wisconsin Methodism, will be conspicuously only by his absence, and all the questions which have caused so much hard feeling in the past have been so disposed of that it will be quiet.

The special race of 600 yards between the ponies of J. Edward Pryst and June Weinmann, for $500 a头ce, off at the fairgrounds yesterday, and the prize fight in which Mr. Pryst took a decided part, was won with ease by his pony.

More Trouble for the Itata.

Los Angeles, Sept. 24.—A second little suit has been filed against the Chinese steamer Itata at San Diego by United States Marshal Third for $200,000, for damages sustained in bringing the vessel back from China.

His Annual Tour.

President Mansfield, of the Santa Fe, who is making a tour of the system, is quoted as saying at San Francisco:

"My visit has no significance, what ever it may be. I try to make a trip twice a year over the system, not only to consider the business outlook but to examine the physical condition of the system. It is my present purpose. The general condition of the Santa Fe business is fairly good, although not what we might wish. Our Southern business is good, but we could do more if we could get it to do. Our Southern California branch is in a growing country, and we consider that good property, although business there during the year has not been all we could wish. Florida there have troubled us and made heavy losses. We have been putting lines in the best possible shape to prevent damage by floods. I speak of southern California especially. There is no construction, whatever, being done by the Santa Fe at present at any point. It is not a good time for building. Conditions of the money market make it difficult to dispose of bonds."

Making Progress.

The fruit and mineral display at the Territorial fair cannot be excelled and shows conclusively what the green clad valleys and mineral environments mountains of sunny New Mexico can produce. Ten short years ago there was scarcely any fruit raised in New Mexico; today she can compete in quality, if not in quantity, with any state in the union. Her wealth in precious metals is yet undeveloped and comparatively unknown, yet she stands well up in the front with the mineral producing states of America—California Elks.

A Cure for Paralysis.

Frank Cornelius, of Pocatello, Ind. Ira, says: "I induced Mr. Pinson, whose wife had paralysis in the face, to buy a bottle of Chamberlin's Pain Balm. To their great surprise before the bottle had all been used she was a great deal better. Her face had been drawn to one side, but the Pain Balm relieved all pain and soreness, and the mouth assumed its natural shape." It is also a certain cure for rheumatism, lame back, sprains, swellings and lameness. 50 cent bottles for sale by Thos. H. Burgess & Son, Druggists.

New Postmasters.

The governor has received notice that postmasters have been appointed in New Mexico as follows:

M. A. James, Spring Hill, Colfax county; Thomas M. Kanister, Cerro, Taos county; W. H. Harris, Greenville, Co. far county; W. B. Murphy, Organ, Dona Ana county.

RAILROAD NEWS.

O. L. Allen, traveling agent of the Wabash road, is around to day.

The Raton division is hard on engines. Several are in the shops there for general overhauling.

W. J. Spence, day car clerk at the Santa Fe freight depot, left here to-day for a visit to Toronto, Canada.

Heavy rains all along the Santa Fe and Atlantic & Pacific roads, but no washouts have been reported.

The fall rainy season has come, regardless of the rain makers, and serious trouble from washouts is expected.

The Denver Republican now suggests Hon. Otto Meiss as the next president of the Denver & Rio Grande railway.

Dr. Kaster, the Atlantic & Pacific surgeon, headquartered at the hospital here, is making a business trip over the road.

President Mansfield of the Santa Fe, is making a semiannual tour of the system. He will be in this city in a few days.

B. F. Tressell, traveling agent of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, has cast his pass over the Santa Fe and headed west.

Arthur Keith, the Santa Fe's night car clerk, left to-day for Los Angeles with a sick brother. He will be absent about a month.

Tom Smith, freight conductor of the northern division in New Mexico, with his wife and sister, have gone to Chicago on a visit.

W. G. McCormick, brakeman on the Atlantic & Pacific, is suffering with cinders in his eyes. He is compelled to wear eye-glasses.

The railroad boys are marrying at a lively rate. The approach of winter no doubt causes such a movement toward the matrimonial altar.

One man named Burt, who was driving a team near the Nevada street crossing at Trinidad, was struck by passenger train No. 2, and killed. His wagon was wrecked, and his horses badly hurt. A cloud of dust prevailed at the time, and he did not see the approaching train, neither did the engineer see him.

M. D. Smith, the brakeman who had the ankle of his left leg broken in a recent wreck to the water tank near Winslow, and who was brought to the hospital here for treatment, is reported improvably. He had a very narrow escape from a serious, if not fatal, accident.

E. J. Cooper, the extra freight conductor for the Atlantic & Pacific, at the hospital with brain trouble, is getting along as well as could be expected. He is not yet considered out of danger, but Drs. Kaster and Himes are giving him all possible attention and care.

WORTHY OF ATTENTION.

A suggestion made in these columns yesterday in relation to getting up a permanent exhibit of the products of the territory, is worthy of more than passing notice. It is a plan, which, if properly carried out, may be made of great value not only to the town but to the whole territory. The city ought to rent one of the rooms on the ground floor of the new club building for this purpose, and if invitations were then sent out to the various sections of the territory, to send samples of their products, an exhibit could be gathered at very little expense, which would enable the visitor to see at a glance what minerals, fruits, vegetables and grains are produced in the various sections of New Mexico, and thus probably cause many who are looking for investments, to interest themselves in localities which they might never know anything about if it were necessary for them to make a trip to such places. And such an exhibit could be housed and cared for at very little expense, none in fact, except the rent of the room.

Los Angeles keeps such a display of the products of Southern California, and the people of that place all agree that it is one of the best advertisements for the country they ever had, enabling the stranger to see without the trouble and expense of traveling about from one point to another, just what each particular district has to offer. There is no manner of doubt of the fact that such an exhibit would be worth many times more to us than the sum it would cost.

Paid the Company.

Superintendent Mulge in conversation with the Reporter, expressed his entire satisfaction with the result of the one cent rate given during the fair. The receipts have amounted to much or more than they would have had in case we had been fair the round trip, and the attendance at the fair and its consequent benefits to the interests of the territory, which is the policy of the company to foster, have been increased. —San Marcial Reporter.

Judge Green of Oklahoma Territory.

has decided that there is no law under which Indian children could be placed in government schools without the consent of their parents. It is extremely doubtful that the judge has the right view of the matter. If he has, the quick or the defect is remedied the better. To educate the young savage is a measure of public safety, and no consideration should be paid to the remonstrances of the people, who would prefer doubtless to raise the teacher's scalp rather than the intellectual standing of his young one.

Miss Lillian Hirst. who has been one of the excellent clerks at the Santa Fe freight depot, left last night for Detroit, Mich., and thence she will visit New York. It is stated on good authority that when she returns to the city she will soon afterwards become the wife of a very popular young gentleman who is a frequent visitor to the metropolis.

Carl Holton, claim adjuster on the Atlantic & Pacific, is in Omaha, Neb., and will assist Deputy Sheriff Heenan in bringing John Cimarrick back to Williams, Arizona, where he is wanted for breaking into freight cars loaded with merchandise.

The ore mills of Grant county are running steadily.

Another big mineral strike has been made at Dolores.

Hay cutting is in progress all over northern New Mexico.

San Juan and Colfax, Taos and Rio Arriba will harvest hay crops this year.

The business men of Santa Fe will organize a new social and commercial club.

The members of the N. and L. Lorraine association will soon visit Santa Fe.

W. E. Morgan, a mining man from Denver, has located with his family at San Pedro.

Magnificent note: Jonas Nelson is contemplating the erection of a smelter to cost between $60,000 and $100,000.

New water works are set Baton to growing at a lively rate, not a vacant house in town in homebuilding every where.

Dr. G. W. Harrison returned to Berardino from Europe accompanied by his family. The family have been absent for several months.

Governor Prince has appointed thirty delegates to represent New Mexico at the opening of the Santa Fe fair, October 1 to 17.

On the 30th day of the present month the San Germano fest will take place at Pueblo Taos. It is expected that 10,000 people will participate in the festivities.

The Denver News and Times, Pueblo Press, Springer Stockman and Eaton Range take occasion to pay high tribute to the memory of the late Col. Ned Wynnepop.

Dan Taylor has taken a contract to open the Rosemont Saloon, owned by W. E. Gartner, W. G. Ashton and S. D. Baldwin. A rich streak of wire gold has just been struck in this promising property.

There are at present thirteen insane persons in Santa Fe county. Five are sane women and one man are in such condition as to require confinement, and these are in the county jail. The care for them costs about $5 per day, or $1,825 per year.

Harry Clancy, of Santa Fe, declares San Juan county to be the most prolific fruit region in the west. Wm. Lock, of Farmington, has an orchard of 1,000 trees that will yield him 1,000,000 pounds of fruit this season, and he mentions another San Juan citizen who has a rack of 1,000 tons of alfalfa, which sell at $10 per ton.

The Territorial Fair.

The great territorial event of the year, the fair, to which we have all been looking forward for which we have all been hoping, is over. While we withdraw a sigh of relief we do so with a full sense of gratification at the splendid success and the complete realization of all our hopes. It was a success in every point. The attendance was large beyond expectation, reaching on Thursday about 60,000 people on the grounds. The city was crowded during the entire week with visitors from Arizona, Colorado, and almost every nook and corner in New Mexico.

While these crowds taxed the capacity of the city yet Albuquerque was equal to the occasion and the accommodations were good, as could be expected under the circumstances. The agricultural, mineral, and fruit displays in the exhibition building, while not as general as by counties as they might have been, were large and highly creditable to the territory. The fruit display was particularly fine and fully warrants the claim that New Mexico is equal to any other place on the continent as a fruit growing country. The live stock exhibits were also of great interest, and credit to the stock growers. The sporting features including horse racing, baseball, fireman's races, military drills, etc., were the best seen in the southwest. The military display, both by regulars and militia were very enjoyable features of the week, as was also the trades carnival and parade on Thursday evening. Several elaborate balls were given during the week at which were gathered many of the most prominent people in the territory as well as the youth and beauty of the metropolis. Large and profitable territorial conventions were held, including a railroad convention to devise ways and means of extending the narrow gauge system from Santa Fe to Cerrillos and Albuquerque, political conventions, industrial conventions of various kinds, and religious conventions. All these things not only brought together many of the leading people of the entire territory, but made the week the most useful and profitable one in its history. It must redound greatly to the credit and profit of New Mexico, to have made such a splendid exhibit of its industries and natural resources, and then to have manifested such life and interest in it as to attend in such unusual numbers. Both Albuquerque and the territory are to be congratulated on the splendid success of the eleventh annual exhibition of the industrial products of New Mexico.—Santa Fe Sun.

A Permanent Exhibit.

We ought to have a permanent exhibition in Albuquerque a good collection of the products of New Mexico, such as is maintained by the city of Los Angeles for Southern California, where a stranger coming to the town can go and inform himself in regard to the character and quality of the articles produced in the various districts of the country. Such a collection should embrace ores, grains, grasses, fruits, vegetables, coal, oil, lumber, gypsum, building stone, and in short anything that the country produces and if kept in a convenient place would be examined in the course of the year by a much larger number of strangers than would see it at the fair.

We ought to commence such a collection at once, and have it ready for visitors during the coming winter.

Of Course.

The agents of the agricultural department who wasted so much gunpowder and dynamite at El Paso a few days ago, now explain their failure to produce rain on the ground that "the conditions were not right." Undoubtedly that was what the trouble was, but what's the use of spending government money to produce rain by the use of explosives or anything else, if the work can only be made to succeed when "the conditions are right"—for
